

91 Belgrave Street WEST KEMPSEY, NSW

A Unique Piece of History

The Railway Hotel is one of Kempseys original buildings, being built in 1885 with additions in 1922. At 130 years old, she is full of the charm of yesteryear with modern day convenience. The Railway Hotel no longer operates as a pub, but now offers Kempsey visitors & locals, low cost short-term and long-term accommodation, with 17 rooms available starting at $70 per night, or from $200 per week. Bathroom facilities down stairs, and upstairs, a brand new shower and amenities upstairs. Plenty of parking is available behind the hotel.

The current Host's have decorated the hotel with eccentric themed rooms like 'The Big Cat Room', and the 'Slim Dusty Room', just to make it a more fun and interesting. The rooms are large, with quality comforts, and access to a great view from the amazing front veranda.
