Gateway into the Market.

Are you busting to crack into the housing market? Investor or First Home Buyer? This brick and tile combination is basically bomb proof and would make a great starting point. Offering 3 bedrooms and 1 bathroom, good living space and kitchen, undercover outdoor area out the back and carport to the side. Large single garage or shed in the back yard, accessible from the drive through carport. Dont get me wrong, there is some elbow grease required but at the right price, the hard work will be worth it!
