

910 Elizabeth Street Zetland, NSW

Victorian charm in a dynamic Inner City precinct

Victorian charm and urban convenience come together in this classic two-storey terrace in one of Sydney's most vibrant city fringe precincts. Built in the 1890s as one of Zetland's earliest homes, it is set on a dual access block with a northerly rear aspect and an atrium style courtyard for all-weather entertaining. Part of a dynamic and connected community, one block back from Green Square town centre, the freshly schemed home is comfortable as is. Just 4km to the CBD and 500m to the station, it's footsteps to cafes and pocket parks and a level walk to East Village marketplace and Danks Street's creative hub.
