Re-Development Means Dollars!

Nothing really more to say here than this.... "Dont Miss This One!!!"
Its simple, it is all about position and what a position it is! A rare development site with river views and rear lane access. The questions to answer are many and varied. What will I build on this site? Will it be a multi-unit development site or do I build the dream home on it? Do I live in it or rent it out as permanent or as a handy holiday home in town, then redevelop? So many questions but only one answer... You need to buy this prime piece of real estate in Yamba! There are endless opportunities here with this 853m2 R3 Medium Density zoned block located in the heart of town. Avoid disappointment and organise your inspection today.

Price: $645,000
